

The Margins of Citizenship: "Deportability", Illegality and Statelessness in the 20th Century, Villa Vigoni, Menaggio, Italy, July 22-25, 2013

Convenors: Kathleen Canning (University of Michigan, Ann Arbor), Jana Häberlein (University of Basel), Barbara Lüthi (University of Cologne), Miriam Rürup (Hamburg Institute for the History of the German Jews)

Monday, July 22nd 7 pm: Arrival, aperitif and dinner

Welcome: Daniela Caglioti, Kathleen Canning and Miriam Rürup

Tuesday, July 23rd

9:00 – 10:45 am

Introduction: Jana Häberlein and Barbara Lüthi

Theoretical Framing

1. New Territories of Power?: Marginalized Citizenship as a Security Issue
William Walters (Carleton University)

Responses from a Historian's and a Lawyer's perspective: Roberta Pergher
(University of Bloomington, Indiana)

Alice Sironi (Migration Law Specialist, IOM, Geneva)

11:15 am – 1:00 pm

Statelessness

2. Imagining the Future between the Citizen and the Stateless in Weimar
Germany
Annemarie Sammartino (Oberlin College)

Peer Reader: Jacqueline Stevens

3. Overcoming the Experience of Statelessness? Comparing Postwar German and Israeli Responses to Statelessness
Miriam Rürup (Hamburg Institute for the History of the German Jews)

Peer Reader: Arturo Marzano

1 pm lunch

2:30 – 5:30 pm

Citizenship and the Boundaries of Legality

4. Citizens and Aliens in Wartime: Naturalizing and Denaturalizing in Europe during World War I

Daniela Caglioti (University of Napoli Federico II)

Peer Reader: Kathleen Canning

5. Citizenships inside, outside and beyond the nation: German vocabularies and their effacements

Kathleen Canning (University of Michigan, Ann Arbor)

Peer Reader: Serhat Karakayali

6. Illegal Migration and the Emergence of Guest-Worker Regimes

Serhat Karakayali (University of Halle)

Peer Reader: Jana Häberlein

Wednesday, July 24th

9:00 – 12:00 am

Rescue and Relief: From the National to the Supranational and Return

7. Remapping Relief and Rescue: Flight, Displacement, and International Aid for Jewish Refugees during World War II

Atina Grossmann (Cooper Union)

Peer Reader: Tobias Brinkmann

8. International Rescue and Transnational Relief: The Hakhsharot for Jewish DPs in Italy, 1945–1948

Arturo Marzano (European University Institute)

Peer Reader: Atina Grossmann

12:00 am lunch

Afternoon: leisure time

7 pm dinner

Thursday, July 25th

9:00 – 11:00 am

Deportation

9. The Limits of Citizenship: Detention and Deportation of U.S. Citizens in the Twenty-first Century
Jacqueline Stevens (Northwestern University)

Peer Reader: Annemarie Sammartino

10. From Transterritorial Subjecthood to Transnational Displacement: Jewish Migrants in the Free City of Danzig after 1918
Tobias Brinkmann (Penn State University)

Peer Reader: William Walters

11:30 am – 12:30 pm

Final discussion

12:30 pm lunch